TEAMSTERS' ENDURING LEGACY: A VISION OF STRENGTH AND UNITY

Since its founding in 1903, the Teamsters Union has stood as a powerful force for workers' rights, built on a vision that remains just as vital today. More than a century later, this commitment to solidarity continues to drive the Teamsters, ensuring fair wages, safe working conditions, and dignity for all workers. Here is the philosophy:

Let each member do his duty as he sees fit. Let each put his shoulder to the wheel and work together to bring about better results. Let no member sow seeds of discord within our ranks, and let our enemies see that the Teamsters of this country are determined to get their just rewards and to make their organization as it should be—one of the largest and strongest trade unions in the country now and beyond.

The union's founding members foresaw its growth and influence, shaping a philosophy of unity, diligence, and perseverance. This philosophy is as true and vital today as it was in 1903. Members, as we honor and celebrate our retirees, we recognize their invaluable contributions to this legacy, whose dedication and hard work have strengthened our union and paved the way for future generations. Their commitment to the values of solidarity and justice continues to inspire us all.
